Crosslight are always thinking outside the box. This 6 piece, 3 guitar rock band have used deodorant cans, broken sticks and even the floor with their instruments to create unique sounds. This mentality follows in their live shows as they are always looking for things to climb or use their instruments on, leaving the audience captivated and always wanting more.

Deriving from a variety of bands bringing a multitude of creative inspirations and describing ourselves as delightfully creative rock, they pride themselves on not sounding like any other band so trying to come up with some that they do sound like is difficult. So, they are just Crosslight.

Since they formed in 2016 they have carved a niche in the Nottingham and UK music scene with their rather unusual 6 piece layout containing no less than 3 guitarists, combine that with a live performance which has been moulded into a thing of pure genius with each one of them having their own on stage personality. Along the way they have shared the stage with Fearless Vampire Killers, Dead! and Black Peaks to name a few. This is only just the start for them. The snowball is slowly growing, as everywhere they go, they find someone who has heard of us. The next 12 months will be exciting, not just for them, but for anyone who follows them. They have already been confirmed for some amazing gigs in the first few months of the year.
